

International Young scientist award for innovative research to Pratik Jagtap

Mr. Pratik Kumar Jagtap, research scholar under the guidance of Dr. Mrs. Kavita Tapadia, Assistant Professor in the department of Chemistry, NIT Raipur has been awarded with International Young Scientist award for his best oral presentation on the topic “Sensitive and innovative technique of nanodrop spectrophotometry for the rapid determination of phenothiazine drug- an application to forensic studies”, in the 6th International Science Congress, held in Pune, on 8th & 9th December, 2016, his research paper was based on the determination and pharmacokinetic studies of the antidepressant drugs phenothiazine at nano level (0.6µL) in human blood and urine samples of psychiatric patients.

